

Product Notification

September 11, 1992

Dear Valued Customer,

Since January of 1987, Elcotel has experienced great success with the Series 3 and 4 A/C powered payphones. Then in April of 1989, we introduced our Line Powered Series 5 payphone which incorporates technological advancements, such as expanded memory, improved answer detection, and access capabilities. In reality, smart payphones are computers...and we're all aware of how PCs have changed over the years!

In order to give our customers the best possible features and functions in a private pay telephone, we too must change with the times. Therefore, Elcotel has decided to discontinue the production of the Series 3 and 4 A/C powered payphones. All efforts will now be focused on the Series 5 Line Powered Payphone and future products.

All support mechanisms currently in place for the Series 3 and 4 products will continue as before. The last "new" production quantities of the Series 3 and 4 have an estimated completion date of October 1, 1992...with all supplies being exhausted by mid-November.

The purpose of this notification is to give our Series 3 and 4 users time to make any necessary adjustments during this transition period, and to prepare them for the advantages of the Series 5.
